

KOFY-TV San Francisco, CA intends to cease analog broadcasting on February 17.

This is before the nationwide deadline on June 12, 2009.

Viewers who rely on over-the-air service with an antenna will lose reception of our programming unless they use a DTV receiver or converter box.

Converter boxes can be purchased from electronics retailers and online.

If you subscribe to cable or satellite service, you should not lose reception.
